Research Notes: Carmen Weigelt

September 4, 2015

Carmen Weigelt's paper “Competition, regulatory policy, and firms’ resource investments: The case of renewable energy technologies” has been accepted for publication in the Academy of Management Journal. The paper is co-authored with Ekundayo Shittu, assistant professor of engineering management & systems engineering at George Washington University. Weigelt is an associate professor of strategy & entrepreneurship at the A. B. Freeman School of Business.