Meet the MBA Class of 2024: Connor Comeaux

January 29, 2023

Connor Comeaux (MBA '24)

Where did you grow up?

Franklinton, Louisiana

Educational Background

I graduated from LSU in May of 2022 with a bachelor's in international trade and finance and a minor in psychology.

What is a fun fact about you?

My first two years of undergrad, I worked for the academic center for student athletes. My role was a class checker, and I was paid to tattle on athletes to their advisors if they skipped class.

Tell us about your work experience? What are you most proud of?

One interesting internship I had during my senior year at LSU was being able to work with the Louisiana State Bond Commission. The SBC is part of the State Treasury, and we helped manage the state's debt and oversaw election and debt applications. It was a unique work environment, and I really enjoyed my time there.

Why are you pursuing your MBA?

I am pursuing my MBA to acquire more applicable business knowledge and build my network. I think that pursuing an MBA will give me the opportunity to expand my scope and gain valuable experience.

What attracted you to Freeman?

I was attracted to Freeman because of the outstanding reputation it has, and the focus it puts on preparing students for their careers. Freeman wants their students to excel inside and outside of the classroom. During my time at Freeman, I hope to gain experience, and I hope to better prepare myself for a career that I want.

Where do you hope to be in five years?

In five years I hope to be working my way up the corporate ladder at a reputable firm in the financial sector.

What do you like to do in your spare time?

In my spare time I like to spend time with friends and family. I also am a big sports fan, and I love playing cards.
