Sequent Energy announces scholarships

February 21, 2008

Sequent Energy Management hosted a reception in the Lavin-Bernick Center on Tulane's Uptown campus on Feb. 20 to announce the recipients of two scholarships for students interested in pursuing careers in energy. Freeman students Michael Pearson (BSM '08) and Walker Weston (MFIN '08) each received a scholarship of $2,500 to further their pursuit of energy-related studies. In addition, Sequent awarded the Entergy-Tulane Energy Institute a gift of $25,000 to support research and programming. The awards were presented by Sequent President Doug Schantz.

Sequent Energy Management, a wholly owned subsidiary of AGL Resources Inc., is an energy company focusing on asset management and optimization, producer services, wholesale marketing and risk management.
