On Good Authority: What Has Remote Work Taught Us?

November 3, 2022

Natalie Longmire, assistant professor of management, discussed the post-pandemic growth of remote work and what research is telling us about productivity and job satisfaction for Episode 41 of “On Good Authority,” Tulane University’s news and research podcast.

To hear the episode in its entirety, visit tulane.edu:

https://tulane.edu/on-good-authority/episode-41-what-has-remote-work-taught-us