CBS Detroit: How is AI impacting entry-level jobs?

June 24, 2025

Paulo Goes, Dean and Debra and Rick Rees Professor of Business, was interviewed for a story about AI's impact on entry-level jobs. Goes told reporter Michael Yoshida that business schools are changing their curricula to emphasize the use of AI tools in business settings.

> “Education is going to be more experiential. [Students] are going to apply AI techniques in a new way of putting together business processes.”

To see the segment in its entirety, visit CBS Detroit's YouTube channel:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BnJu1Hknx28