Meet the MBA Class of ’27: Jacques Reynoir

December 1, 2025

Jacques Reynoir

Jacques Reynoir is a JD/MBA candidate with a background in Economics and History from the University of Chicago. He has gained hands-on legal experience as a Law Clerk at LaFleur and LaBorde Attorneys at Law where he conducted research, drafted briefs, and supported litigation strategy. Jacques is an active member of the Tulane Journal of International and Comparative Law and has published work on prison reform, reflecting his interest in the intersection of law and policy. With career ambitions in corporate and transactional law, he seeks to combine his legal expertise with business strategy to advise organizations on complex commercial decisions. Outside of academics, Jacques enjoys film, global affairs, and staying engaged in debates on law and economics.
