CNBC: Why Walmart is moving in on DoorDash, Uber Eats delivery action

September 6, 2026

Hongseok Jang, assistant professor of management science, was interviewed by CNBC about Walmart's plans to start delivering products from Dunkin' to customers' homes.

> “To me it seems that Walmart is testing its own delivery system to see if they can handle it, and if it is successful there will be a big competition between Walmart and Uber Eats and DoorDash,” Jang said.
